B.C. Legislature Prorogues After Historic Session

Order Paper Cleared at Short Morning Sitting as House Prepares to Receive Lieut.-Governor; Eighty Bills Passed

The first session of the eighteenth Legislature of British Columbia came to an end this afternoon when Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Fordham Johnson arrived at the Parliament Buildings to give assent to the eighty bills passed by the House.

Just over five weeks have been consumed in dealing with the legislation headed by the Special Powers Act which vests wide authority in the government to deal with matters that demand attention between sessions of the Legislature.

For the last week the House has been sitting morning, afternoon and into the early hours of the next morning, battling mainly over this measure.

In a brief sitting this morning the few remaining bills were cleared from the order paper.

As the House opened H. C. E. Anderson, C.P.R. North Vancouver, endeavored to put a motion suspending the Fraser River Bridge Company's bill for a year, but it was ruled out of order. Mr. Anderson forced a division on third reading.

The vote overruling the motion was 13 to 13. Dr. J. J. Gille, Yale, voting with the Opposition.

The last bills to be given final reading were: the Chiropractors Bill, amendment to the Medical Act, amendment to the Barbers Act, the Income Tax amendments, the Revenue Act amendment which covers the amendment to the Placing Act, an amendment to the C. C. Insurance Act, the Vancouver River Bill, amendments to the Municipal Act, the Optometry Bill and an amendment to the Legal Professions Act.

Amendments to the Municipal Act covering a wide range of subjects were adopted by the Legislature yesterday evening.

Following generally along the lines recommended by the municipal committee of the House, the bill made the following changes:

Power to equalize frontage charges on property.

Requiring notice from jewelers to the police of purchase of jewelry for inspection purposes.

Provision for an annual library tax in certain districts.

Further control and licensing of dogs within municipalities.

To compel uniform numbering of houses.

Control of streets for the purpose of tag days.

Permission to forego sinking fund provisions for this year.

And other minor adjustments respecting tax payments, powers of commissioners and rates.

A bill to amend the Income Tax Act passed through committee with routine amendments.

The Canadian Northeastern Railway charter extension bill was given final reading.

Third reading was given bills pending the County Courts Act, summary Convictions Act, Municipal Elections Act, the Agricultural and Metalliferous Mines Act, Village Municipalities Act.

Mannheim, Germany, March 29.—(Associated Press, via Havas).—There have been today in the Karlsruhe district, near Bruchsal, according to The Berliner Tageblatt, the discovery of an oil field. The oil has been driven to the 2,500-foot level when oil began to flow.

Russian Air Rescue Awaits Fair Weather

Soviet Pilot Nine-seater Plane at Nome Ready to Ferry Eighty-nine Men From Bering Ice Floe to Alaska

Associated Press, Alaska, March 29.—Another drama of the Far North was in making here today with the detestable aerial expedition to rescue the nine men marooned on an ice floe in Bering Sea, 350 miles from shore, hoping for favorable weather so that they could be ferried to the mainland.

A good weather is reported from the area and Camp Schmidt, the camp of the ice named after the party's leader, Prof. Otto Schmidt, Pilot P. Levanovsky plans to leave for Cape Karen, where the Russian air hero, Levanovsky, was found March 18 after being forced down near Kotulchik.

BIG SCHEME FOR HOMES IN U.S.

Washington, March 29.—A large-scale programme to stimulate the building industry whose output is used for further production is being prepared by the administration.

Included in a gigantic home renovation and building project, federal loans to industry are contemplated.

RELIEF SUMS ARE HALTED

Commons Takes Easter Holiday Without Passing 1934 Bill

Ottawa, March 29.—Parliament Hill was deserted to-day as members of the Senate and the House of Commons made their way to their homes for a ten-day Easter holiday.

Many private members are taking advantage of the vacation to consult the views of their constituents and to enlighten them on the major pieces of legislation now before Parliament, such as the new banking law and the natural products marketing bill.

In the midst of a stubborn skirmish, the House of Commons adjourned without passing the unemployment relief measure for 1934. Consequently the federal government will have no power to make contributions to the provinces and municipalities for relief expenditures after to-morrow night, when the fiscal year will end and the old relief law will expire.

The Dominion Government having no authority to pay accounts, the bills will pile up until the extending bill is passed the House and the Senate after the recess. It was not believed to-day there would be any curtailment of relief throughout the country.

BLANKET POWERS OPPOSED

The relief bill was before the House in committee of the whole yesterday, but no progress was made. Liberal speakers continued attacking the sections of the act which empower the government to take action by order-in-council to meet emergencies.

Mr. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, while returning to acquiesce in speedy passage of the measure, laid the blame for delay at the feet of the government, whose settled policy, he claimed, was to try and force relief legislation through at the last minute.

GUARANTEES DISCUSSED

Guarantees to banks and other private corporations made under the authority of the Relief Act were discussed by the opposition.

BULLET KILLS OREGON STUDENT

Corvallis, Ore., March 29.—Paul Kutch, twenty-one years old, of Albany, a student at the Oregon State College, was killed to-day when a roommate, Robert Veale, twenty, of Alameda, Calif., accidentally discharged a revolver he was cleaning. The bullet passed through Kutch's head.

WORK FOR MANY ON BIG NEW SHIPS

Glasgow, March 29.—The countryside along the Clyde was glad to-day by news work on the giant Cunard liner 334, suspended twenty-seven months ago, would be resumed next Tuesday.

It was officially announced the launching probably will be made in the autumn. Resumption of work will be gradual.

The resumption of work follows the merger of the Cunard and White Star Lines, by which their North Atlantic fleets will be jointly operated.

NEW ALLIANCE PLAN DEBATED

British-French-Belgian Defence Proposal Discussed in Paris

Associated Press, Paris, March 29.—A possible triple defence alliance between France, Great Britain and Belgium was being discussed here to-day.

Foreign Minister Louis Barthou told the cabinet he had broached the proposal during a conference with Count Charles de Broqueville, Belgian Premier, last week.

In London and Paris at the same time was being discussed a new conference, outside the League of Nations, aimed at setting a limitation on European armaments and giving Germany the right to return to a certain degree.

ASKS WHY TIXIS GETS CONCESSION

Hon. G. M. Weir Explains Why Legislature Used; Not Available For Others

Use of the Legislative Chamber by the Tixis Old Boys' Parliament is the subject of a number of questions which appeared on the order papers yesterday.

H. E. Winch, C.C.P. Vancouver East, has raised the question as to who gave permission to use the chamber. He also asks if it is the intention to grant the use of the chamber in 1934 and 1935. In this event Mr. Winch wants to know if the chamber will be available for other organizations who wish to hold conventions, such as the Salvation Army, Unemployed Workers' Association, Revivalists, Trades and Labor Councils, Liberals, Conservatives, C.C.P. or Oxford Groups.

Hon. G. M. Weir replied that the practice has been followed for eleven years of granting the Tixis the use of the chamber and permission was granted by the former Premier. No requests have been received yet for next year he answered, and the chamber was not available for the purposes specified in the question.

U.S. Revenue Problem Is Raised By Vote

In Overriding President's Veto of Veterans' and Civil Service Bill Congress Makes It Necessary to Find $228,000,000 More

Associated Press, Washington, March 29.—The administration pondered without immediate answer to-day on where to get another $228,000,000—the cost of a surprising overthrow of President Roosevelt's first major veto.

That shall we use for money? That is the question of the United States Government heads after the turbulent scenes that accompanied the break between Congress and the President.

NEW TAXES DISCUSSED

There was no quick reply. Several courses were open. Early speculation had it that either new taxes would be suggested or a deficiency appropriation voted to expand the budget by the needed amount. The latter course alone, without providing new taxes, was the one that was discussed.

MARKETING ACT IS ANTICIPATED

Legislative officials of the government were reported hard at work this morning drafting a British Columbia Marketing Act to be introduced at the House of Commons at Ottawa.

If completed it was to be introduced at the final sitting of the House this afternoon, the inauguration of "teachings" in the Special Powers Act. The House adopted the principle of the act in adopting a resolution from the committee on agriculture last Tuesday.

Among the suggestions to be placed before the assembly are proposals to close normal schools for two years, the inauguration of "teachings" in place of university degrees now required for high school work, changes in teaching methods and curricula, as well as the perennial question of textbooks.

One of the highlights of the convention will be the presence in Vancouver of Dr. Peter Manniche, founder and principal of the International People's College, Elsinore, Denmark. He will address the opening session Monday evening.

MINISTER WILL SPEAK

At the Tuesday morning meeting Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of British Columbia, and Dr. Manniche, will speak. In the afternoon the serious work of the conference will begin with the reading of annual reports and the conveying of various committees.

Sectional meetings will continue on Wednesday, and in the evening there will be a joint meeting of the federation with the Parent-Teacher Association. Deliberations will conclude on Thursday.

A long list of resolutions for consideration by the gathering has been filed with Paul N. Whitley, chairman of the resolutions committee. Included is a suggestion that all changes in textbooks or curricula be submitted to the organized teachers concerned before being authorized by the Department of Education.

Another resolution touches on recent court cases involving school trustees in claims for damages arising out of accidents on playgrounds and advocates an examination of the school law of British Columbia with a view to possible amendments.

M. J. INSULL FREED ON BAIL

Released at Chicago; S. Insull's Ship Still at Istanbul

Associated Press, Chicago, March 29.—Martin J. Insull emerged from a county jail here to-day to be led before the bar of justice he had striven seventeen months in Canada to evade.

Standing silent while his counsel deferred a formal plea to the two indictments, alleging the embezzlement of $364,000 from the former Insull utilities companies, the elderly defendant quickly gained his freedom under $50,000 bonds and was told he might go where he pleased within the United States.

Earl and Countess Bessborough Welcomed to City By Lieut.-Governor Johnson; Informality of Visit Precludes Official Functions

No semblance of ostentation marked the arrival in the city to-day of the Governor-General and his consort from Ottawa.

During the next ten days Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Bessborough will be the guests of the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. J. W. Fordham Johnson at Government House.

The visit is an informal one and there will be no public functions with the exception of the reception at the Empress Hotel on April 3, when Their Excellencies will meet the citizenry.

The vice-regal party crossed the Gulf from Vancouver aboard the regular night steamer Princess Louise, arriving alongside the Belleville Street docks at 7 o'clock this morning. There was no display as the party disembarked at 8.45 o'clock.

Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, attended by his private secretary, A. M. D. Fairbairn, and Major Walter Bapty, aide-de-camp to the Governor-General during his stay here, were waiting at the dock as the boat came alongside.

Capt. Cyril D. Neroutacos completed his last official act prior to retiring as manager of the B.C. Coast Service of the C.P.R. when he accompanied the party.

DEATH LEAVES GAP IN U.S. BANKING

New York, March 29.—Otto H. Kahn, banker and art patron, died here to-day.

Announcement of his death was withheld by Kahn, Loeb and Company, the banking firm of which he was a partner, apparently until after the close of the market.

Mr. Kahn died in his office at 145 p.m. Heart disease was the cause of death. He was sixty-seven years of age.

Otto Hermann Kahn was born at Mannheim, Germany, February 21, 1867. He was educated in Germany, and learned banking in Germany and with the branch of the Deutsche Bank in London.

He moved to the United States in 1893. He was with the banking house of Speyer & Co. 1895-6, and with the banking firm of Kahn, Loeb & Co. since January 1, 1897, for many years past being a dominating figure with that institution.

Big School Changes Urged By B.C. Teachers

Many Resolutions to Be Discussed at Federation Convention in Vancouver Next Week

Canadian Press, Vancouver, March 29.—Resolutions which, if adopted, promise to revolutionize teaching in British Columbia will be considered for four days, beginning Monday, by nearly 1,300 delegates to the annual convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation. Meetings will be held in the Hotel Vancouver.

Among the suggestions to be placed before the assembly are proposals to close normal schools for two years, the inauguration of "teachings" in place of university degrees now required for high school work, changes in teaching methods and curricula, as well as the perennial question of textbooks.

One of the highlights of the convention will be the presence in Vancouver of Dr. Peter Manniche, founder and principal of the International People's College, Elsinore, Denmark. He will address the opening session Monday evening.

IMPROVEMENT ANTICIPATED

Indications of General Pick-up Seen From City Hall Quarterly Figures

As various departments of the City Hall wound up activities of the first quarter of 1934 to-day, preparatory to their four-day holiday, which will last until next Tuesday, signs were not lacking of brighter prospects for the second quarter of the year.

Revenue figures in some cases were slightly below those of the corresponding period last year, but the climb indicated in recent weeks offset to a certain extent the slow start of the early part of the year.

With the mill rate struck, a big increase was anticipated in preparation of taxes, which now lag slightly over $50,000 behind the figures for the first quarter of 1933, the record year.

Building figures jumped during March in comparison with the same month in 1933, although the total to date is not quite as high as it was at the end of the first three months of last year.

Hopeful signs were seen in the relief department, with the city showing a slight drop in the number it cares for in spite of increased charges placed upon it by the government.

BRIGHT FUTURE

Collection of arrears in taxes furnished an exceptionally bright spot on the 1934 picture, the figures being between 40 and 50 per cent higher for the year ending this month than they were for the corresponding period ending last March.

Health conditions remained about the same, a slight epidemic of scarlet fever this year replacing one of rubella last March.

Road and poll tax collections were reported slightly higher with considerable more revenue expected shortly as the public seems aware of the penalties attached to non-payment.

Building figures, culled from the building inspector's record, showed the value of construction undertaken this month to be about $2,000 above those of March last year, the totals (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

CALGARY MAYOR DEFENDS RELIEF

Calgary, March 29.—"The city of Calgary never at any time exceeded the amount allocated by both senior governments for unemployment relief work during the period the work programme was being carried out," stated Mayor Andrew Davidson to-day when commenting on the report of the auditor-general at Ottawa.

"There were several items of work which cost a little more than estimated, but to balance this there were work projects which cost less than estimated. There is but a difference of about $7,000 on work programmes which were carried out at a cost of more than $1,000,000."

REPORT OF AUDITOR-GENERAL ON WHICH MR. KING, LIBERAL LEADER, BASED HIS CHARGES, MADE PUBLIC AT OTTAWA TO-DAY

Edmonton-Calgary Figures Included

Canadian Press, Ottawa, March 29.—The Dominion auditor-general has reported to Parliament that Alberta and the two cities of Calgary and Edmonton overcharged the federal treasury approximately $66,000 on direct and indirect relief projects.

The Dominion official conducted a series of test audits on provincial and municipal accounts, extending back to 1930, finding many accounting irregularities. The report was made public to-day, having been referred to by Mr. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader in the House of Commons, earlier this week.

It was during the debate on the Relief Bill for 1934-35—which still had not been passed when Parliament adjourned for the ten-day Easter recess—that Mr. King asked the audits be tabled in the House.

Hon. Wesley Gordon, Minister of Labour, complied with the request and the returns were handed to Mr. King. It was based on these returns that the Liberal leader charged a systematic looting of the federal treasury by provinces and municipalities in the House Monday.

The returns cover all the provinces for years.

EDMONTON FIGURES

Dealing with direct relief in Edmonton, the report says a provincial audit disclosed the city had included the cost of moving families within the municipality and railway transportation to outside points.

The report continued: "The city obtained a discount on the purchase price of milk tickets bought from the Edmonton City Dairy. Your representative (the auditor-general) was informed the discount, which at March 31, 1933, amounted to $7,892, was refunded by the city until disclosed by the provincial audit. The federal share of the discount is $2,630, of which $999 has been remitted to the federal government, leaving a balance of $1,631 still to be remitted."

Edmonton, the report said, did not maintain adequate accounting records relating to clothing purchased and issued.

WORK PROJECTS

Turning to work projects in Edmonton, the report said, several sums (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

HON. H. MARLER TO VISIT HERE

Dominion Minister to Japan and Mrs. Marler Will Holiday in Eastern Canada

Tokio, March 29.—Hon. Herbert M. Marler, Canadian Minister to Japan, now virtually recovered from the attack of pneumonia which he suffered late last year, plans to sail for Canada from Yokohama April 13, aboard the liner Empress of Japan.

Mrs. Marler will accompany him and they will spend the summer in Eastern Canada. They expect to return to Japan in the autumn.

The Empress of Japan is scheduled to reach Victoria the morning of Tuesday, April 24. Mr. and Mrs. Marler will probably continue with the ship to Vancouver. They were last here in the summer of 1932, having left for Japan in October of that year. Last summer they spent several weeks in the Hawaiian Islands, but did not come as far as Victoria.

U.S. DOLLAR IN LONDON LOSES

London, March 29.—The United States dollar closed at 85 1/4, a net loss of 3 1/4 cents, on the foreign exchange market here to-day. The U.S. Senate's action in overriding President Roosevelt's veto of the independent offices' appropriation bill was an unfavorable influence. Gold declined 9 1/2 pence to 135 shillings, 5 1/2 pence ($34.58), at which figure $200,000 ($3,067,500) was sold.

Paris, March 29.—A second autopsy on the body of Serge Stavisky, performed by four physicians to-day, showed the man who headed the infamous municipal pawnshop committed suicide, as originally reported, it was announced.

Professor Balthazar, who had charge of the investigation, agreed all the evidence demonstrated Stavisky met death by his own hand.

PARIS POLICE CHARGE THEM WITH SLAYING JUDGE ALBERT PRINCE AS GREAT FRENCH PAWNSHOP SCANDAL GREW

Associated Press, Paris, March 29.—Underworld trails into the haunts of the "Stavisky Gang" led to-day to murder charges against two men suspected of the mysterious slaying of Judge Albert Prince, "the man who knew all" in the Stavisky scandal.

Gaston Herbon de Lussat, a native of Monaco, who is called "Baron," and Paul Carbone Bonaventure, a Corsican, were locked up after an all-night grilling by secret police.

A third man, Francois Paul Spirito, was held at Marseilles for questioning. Police said they believed the investigation would lead to discovery of a "mafia" among Paris gangsters.

DRIVERS MAY FORM UNION

Truck Men and Chaffeurs Consider Uniting For Improved Wage Conditions

Formation of a union among truck drivers and teamsters of Victoria was mooted at a meeting in the Labor Hall yesterday evening, sponsored by the Trades and Labor Council, at which a number of local drivers reported on working conditions for members of their trade in the city.

Joseph W. Casey presided and explained the meeting had been called in the interests of truck drivers and chaffeurs to consider action for the improvement of their wage conditions. He felt that organization of unions was the only solution, and it was agreed that another meeting be held before definite steps were decided upon. The general opinion was that two unions would have to be formed as one would not serve both trucking men and chaffeurs.

Average wages for a truck driver in 1929 had been $23 a week, while now they were about $17.50 a week, the chairman stated.

Several drivers testified to the wages they were earning, stating they were not being paid for overtime, and in some cases were working ten hours a day and one out of five Sundays.

Osteopaths Saved In House Measure

An amendment to the Medical Act defining the practice of osteopathy, which, osteopaths claimed, would have put them out of business, was deleted when the bill was before the House yesterday evening.

Other changes in the act brought it in line with recognition of the chiropractors.

In consideration of the bill, Premier Pattullo announced the government proposed to study the whole question of healing methods and seek to settle the long-standing disputes at the earliest possible time.

Government Turns Down Proposal of G. G. McGeer, K.C.; Bill Is Called Repudiation Measure By Herbert Anscomb

A last minute attempt by G. G. McGeer, K.C., to have municipal debts brought within the scope of Hon. John Hart's refunding scheme was defeated in the Legislature yesterday evening by a division of 31 to 11 on third reading of the Revenue Act.

Dr. J. J. Gillis voted with the Opposition on the proposed amendment. Herbert Anscomb, Victoria, voted with the government.

At the same time, Mr. McGeer suggested the government be allowed to limit interest rates on its debt to three per cent.

"Why not take the power to say the government will defer the payment of interest on loans above three per cent?" Mr. McGeer said. He predicted if this were done it would not be necessary to use it, as the bondholders would come to the government and offer to take the lower interest without crying about losses.

NOT DESIRED NOW
The government did not wish to accept the municipal amendment, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, said, as it only proposed to deal with provincial finances at the time.

The Revenue Act, under which provision is made for refunding over $120,000,000 of the provincial debt, should be called the Repudiation Bill of British Columbia, Mr. Herbert Anscomb, Independent, Victoria, declared when the measure was up for second reading.

VIOLATION OF CONTRACT

He declared that calling of provincial loans before maturity would be a direct violation of the contract with the bondholders and pleaded for "fair treatment" for the men who had loaned B.C. money with which to develop itself.

Moreover, he argued, the bill took away from the Legislature its supreme right to decide the borrowing powers of the government since it allowed borrowing for both past and anticipated deficits.

Mr. McGeer attacked the borrowing feature as unconstitutional, declaring the bill would give the courts by the courts on the same grounds that the SPA would be disallowed. This, he added, would probably be a fatal barrier to the conversion loan idea. There was little doubt, he said, it would be attacked in the courts by the bondholders.

House Hears Mining Report

More Assistance For Prospectors Urged By Legislative Committee

Recommendations from the mining committee of the Legislature were received by the House, and discussed yesterday afternoon. The proposals made are:

"That some measure of compensation be extended to bona fide prospectors injured in the course of their labor as such."

"That citizens in receipt of relief allowances who, having no prospect of other employment, wish to engage on prospecting should not be denied their relief allowance while so engaged."

"That rock-dust and silicosis be considered as occupational diseases by the Department of Mines."

"That the Department of Mines take steps to utilize in some measure the available relief labor for the advancement of mining activities along the lines recommended by various boards of trade and other bodies."

"That the Taxation Act be amended as soon as practicable so as to cancel all accumulated tax arrears on reverted Crown-granted mineral claims which have been vested in the Crown for ten years or longer, and that this becomes a permanent policy."

"That the Minister of Finance be urged to investigate the advisability of amending section 23 of the Mineral Act so that the Crown, as represented by the Forest Branch, may be protected against the loss of royalty fees on timber which under this section now prohibits the latter from selling such timber when it is useless for any mining purposes."

"That, in view of the obviously large bodies of low-grade ores existing in various portions of the province, the government be urged to undertake, preferably in conjunction with private interests, the establishment of two small portable mills, one in the northern and one in the southern portion of the province, for the purpose of testing the commercial possibilities of these ore-bodies, which are not of sufficiently high valuation to stand shipping charges without compensation."

"That every reasonable assistance be afforded prospectors by way of assay services."

Two Bridges For Fraser Endorsed

Bills Passed By Legislature Permit Agreements For Both Ladner and New Westminster Structures

Making the second Fraser River bridge agreement the Legislature has endorsed this session, the Fraser River Bridge Company's private bill for a span at New Westminster, was passed yesterday.

When the bill was in committee, A. M. Manson, K.C., Omineca, declared he felt sure only one of the bridges would be built at the present time, although the right to build at both places in the future. Since the New Westminster bridge was on an established line of traffic it was the most likely one to proceed first.

A division called on second reading gave a majority of thirty-one to thirteen in favor. Dr. J. J. Gillis and E. D. Barrow, east, negative votes, all other Liberals, except G. G. McGeer, K.C., in favor. The entire opposition, except Clive Plante and Thomas Uphill, east, negative votes, all other Liberals, except G. G. McGeer, K.C., in favor. The entire opposition, except Clive Plante and Thomas Uphill, east, negative votes, all other Liberals, except G. G. McGeer, K.C., in favor.

Right afterwards the modified Ladner bridge agreement was reported complete through committee.

WESTMINSTER EXPANSION

Mr. Manson recalled the Fraser River Bridge Company Limited received a charter to build a bridge across the Fraser in 1926 near Fort Mann. Subsequently it was found desirable to build the bridge nearer to New Westminster.

The New Westminster bridge was inadequate to cope with the traffic and something had to be done. Figures showing the expansion of the port of New Westminster were presented by Mr. Manson. It was now the third port of Canada. Because of the number of ships going up the river and the number of times it was necessary to swing the bridge traffic was seriously interfered with. Mr. Manson presented representations from the New Westminster City Council and the New Westminster Board of Trade before the private bill committee of the Legislature in favor of the construction of a high-level bridge.

The structure proposed was set out in the bill, Mr. Manson said. He defended the toll feature of the bridge. Tolls were not new as far as the bridge was concerned, he said, citing Montreal and Quebec bridges and four big toll bridges now building in the United States.

The government was asked, Mr. Manson said, to donate land necessary for the bridge site. The company was asking no guarantees from the crown, Mr. Manson pointed out. He urged the government to charter to enable the company to finance the bridge automatically became the property of the crown when the bridge was completed. The bonds were retired. Construction of the bridge would fit into a work and wages programme and the company, he said, would donate the land necessary for the bridge site.

McGEER OBJECTS
Mr. McGeer said a certain amount of confusion might be created in view of the fact that the bill was a private bill of the company, and the crown that there was a spread in totals on estimated cost of the bridge of $1,600,000. The bill was more out of line with the policy of the government than was the Ladner Bridge bill. The building of two bridges at the same time across the Fraser would probably mean a minimum of cost and there was the danger that in a few years two bankrupt companies might leave two bridges on the hands of the government. He said the already seriously damaged credit of the government would be further weakened by the announcement that tolls would be collected by the company from the time of approving the plans to the starting of the work was taken exception to by Mr. McGeer, especially in view of the fact that every reason to hope the Dominion Government would announce it would co-operate with the provincial governments in a scheme of public works which might include bridges. The granting of the rights to a private company to build the bridge and collect taxes was described by Mr. McGeer as farming out the taxes.

MR. POOLEY CRITICIZES
R. H. Pooley, K.C., claimed the tolls proposed for the Ladner Bridge were lower than those for the proposed New Westminster Bridge, but Mr. Manson replied the scale of tolls had been struck out of the New Westminster Bridge and they would be set by the Minister of Public Works.

Pooley criticized the more which would close down a free bridge and leave only a toll bridge to cross. Mr. Pooley also predicted lifting of the tolls would be made an election issue to be forced upon candidates.

R. W. Bruhn claimed the bill was so drafted the Minister of Public Works would find he had no control over the bridge. Placing the estimated cost of the bridge at $3,500,000 and the amount it would be necessary to raise to meet the interest and redemption of the bonds, Mr. Bruhn said it would be necessary for the people of the Fraser Valley to pay $600 a day to get into Vancouver.

C.F.P. FIGHT PRINCIPLE
Rev. Robert Connell, Opposition Leader, objected to the principle of a toll bridge. He also protested against the franchise which he described as outrageous and voiced the view the public was being exploited.

R. B. Swales, C.C.F., Delta, presented protests from a number of Delta organizations against closing a free bridge and erecting a toll bridge. Congestion on the present New Westminster Bridge only existed at holiday times, Mr. Swales claimed. The proposed handing over of control of thirty-two miles of river to the company was also criticized by the member.

Jack Price, C.C.F., Vancouver East, went on record as opposed to private ownership of public utilities and he regarded the proposed bridge as a public utility. A vote on the subject in the area he believed, would be overwhelmingly against construction of the bridge by a private company.

H. C. E. Anderson, C.C.F., North Vancouver, criticized it as a promoters' scheme. Western Canada had suffered enough from promoters, he said. "We have heard a good deal about the government's new deal. This appears to be the first card out of the

EXPLAINS PLEA FOR LOW RATE

Ald. Andrew McGavin Outlines Unexpected Losses in Waterworks Scheme

Justification for the plea for a lower interest rate on mortgages held against the city in connection with the purchase of the Esquimalt Waterworks was voiced by Alderman Andrew McGavin at yesterday's meeting of the City Council as he introduced his resolution asking that the mortgage holders reduce the rate.

The alderman pointed out the city did not receive what it had expected in good faith as a result of its deal with the company, stating that Fair-service and Gierin, lumber company, which had purchased the logging rights on the Goldstream watershed, had failed to meet their obligations. He also brought up the fact the city was short $6,000,000 board feet in timber to what it had expected following an independent cruise of the district.

This point was emphasized by Alderman Walter Lunney, who explained how the city had expected to find that amount included in the stands on the watershed but later had determined it was not there and was merely a mistake on the part of the cruiser.

Coal Production Shows Decrease

FORTY-ONE MILLS

IN A GENERAL WAY THE ADOPTION of a municipal tax rate of forty-one mills actually represents a decrease of taxation in the light of the reduction of the civic assessment by more than two million dollars. But even if there had been no assessment reduction an increase in the mill rate, no matter how small, would have had a depressing effect upon the community in many directions, while, apart from this psychological consideration, it would have resulted in more property reversion to the city than usual. While the mill rate in itself does not indicate the actual taxation of a community, it is the aspect which commands chief attention, and taxpayers, for the most part, are not disposed to consider any extenuating circumstances when it is increased.

The council was able to maintain the forty-one mill rate by omitting to provide for its annual contribution of $242,000. to the sinking fund, in this respect taking a page out of the recent chapters of provincial financing. This omission eventually must be made good, either by a special levy at some more propitious time, by refunding, or by using the surplus interest earnings of the funds. In itself, therefore, the shortage in relation to the general sinking fund situation is not serious, but admittedly it reflects unsound financing, and, of course, is subject to very definite and immediate limits. It is, in fact, an emergent expedient dictated by the prospect that the alternative course of increasing taxation at this time would create conditions which in the end would prove even more costly to the community.

As general economic conditions improve throughout Canada the problem of municipal financing will become less formidable, but as far as the municipalities of this province are concerned they never will be able to re-establish their financial structures on a sound foundation until there is a readjustment of their powers of taxation and new sources of revenue are found for them. No community can make permanent headway if it has to destroy its basic resource of real property by excessive taxation. Reform in this respect therefore is imperative. The time when it will be possible obviously must depend upon the ability of the province to get itself out of financial difficulties, and this, in turn, must depend largely upon the wider question of Dominion policy. If the federal authorities would assist the province to readjust its finances in the same way that it is assisting powerful private corporations, it would be possible for British Columbia to assist similarly the municipalities to clear the hurdles in their way. Hence, the taxation rate in this city is inextricably bound up with the wider aspects of provincial and national policy.

THE FIRST MAJOR REVOLT

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HAS SUSTAINED his first major defeat at the hands of Congress which cancelled his veto of the veterans' bonus bill by the necessary two-thirds majority. The measure provides for the payment to more than 3,500,000 veterans of $2,400,000,000. How the majority of the American public will regard this "revolt" against the President's policy remains to be seen. The press very nearly unanimously charges the House of Representatives and the Senate with "cheap politics"—a bid for the veterans' votes at the Congressional elections next November. Incidentally, moreover, the decision of Congress explodes the idea that Mr. Roosevelt has dictatorial powers.

Two weeks ago the House of Representatives passed the bill by a vote of 295 to 125. The Senate's vote yesterday was sixty-three to twenty-seven—only six votes short of the full senatorial roster.

Having taken a survey of editorial opinion on the action of the lower House, The Literary Digest says it got a "pummeling from" scores of newspapers in all parts of the country. "The measure was sponsored by Congressmen Wright Putnam and Thomas L. Blanton. The vote in the House which first passed the bill was rolled up by 231 Democrats, fifty-nine Republicans, and five Farmer-Laborites. Opposing it were seventy-four Democrats and fifty-nine Republicans. In the Senate yesterday twenty-three Republicans, twenty-nine Democrats, and the lone Farmer-Labor member voted for the bill, while all those voting to sustain the President were Democrats."

Back in 1932, a similar bonus bill was passed by the House of Representatives, only to meet its death in the Senate two days later.

Dealing with the action of the House two weeks ago, The Boston Transcript said it was "cheap politics to hide behind the skirts of this bill." But it ought not to be surprising, in the opinion of The New Haven Register, because the bill is "typical of the cheap politics that members of that body have played time and again on various phases of pension legislation." "It shows clearly once again," according to The Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger, "that Congress is hardly to be trusted where money for votes is involved." As The Chicago Daily News saw it, here was "a rubber stamp House of Representatives, which no longer represents anything but cheap politics, passing a counterfeit bill falsely purporting to pay a bonus to World War veterans in counterfeit money."

"Their action was a play for votes in November," said The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and The Kansas City Star agreed that "the House vote is explained by political considerations." "The significant feature," according to The Indianapolis Star, "is that it demonstrates to what depths a branch of Congress has sunk when it will resort to such cheap tactics in the hope of getting votes from the few veterans and their friends who may be deceived."

It will not be possible until after the November Congressional elections have been held to learn what the people think of the action of the House and Senate in regard to this bill. Mr. Roosevelt is implacably opposed to the bonus measure, as were his three Republican predecessors in office. In their terms, however, the presidential veto was sustained by Congress.

If the temper of the country as a whole at present differs but little from what it has been ever since the war on this subject it is not unlikely that those Democrats who voted for this expenditure may find themselves in conflict with those who sent them to office.

At least the Republicans have nothing to lose by their stand; the forces of the administration have. It would not be surprising, therefore, if President Roosevelt, for the last two years of his official term, finds himself confronted by a hostile Congress. This will depend, of course, on his hold on public opinion—whether it supports the idea that the welfare of the state in general, under his leadership, shall be considered paramount, rather than that political punishment, for political punishment's sake alone, shall be meted out to those of his followers who may be considered guilty of the "vote-cadging" charge.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

CONSIDER THIS AS A FINE TYPE OF British Columbia citizenship: A resident of Burnaby inquired of the relief department of that district the amount he and his family had drawn since he had become unemployed. The information was duly given to him and he replied: "Thank you! I wish to refund to the municipality the relief afforded my family, as we have come into a little money and are now in a position to repay." It was a bit of a shock for the relief officer; but we are told that he promptly rallied and gave the man a receipt for the full amount which he returned to the public fund.

It is hardly to be supposed that many people who have found it necessary to draw relief are likely to "come into a little money." The "windfall" to which they are looking forward is a steady job—a job of any kind, temporary or otherwise. There is not a great deal which the ordinary individual who is in employment can do, of course, but there are many odd bits of work around a house or garden which could be given to idle men to do. The earning of a dollar means much to one who feels the utter helplessness of his or her existence. Many of our citizens are doing their part in this; but it would seem that many others might look around and find the odd job.

NICKEL AGAIN

A DISPATCH FROM TORONTO THE other day said the International Nickel Company of Canada, Limited, had 3,643 more men employed at the end of December, 1933, than at the end of December, 1932, and that the wage bill in Canada alone had increased by $4,000,000 in the twelve months. Here is part of the dispatch:

"The president reviewed the company's financial statement, which was made public some weeks ago, emphasizing the aggregate of cash, government and other securities as of December 31, 1933, exceeded the comparable figures of December 31, 1932, by $9,822,911. Net earnings for 1933, after reserving $3,551,653 for depreciation and mine depletion and $555,988 for all other reserves, were $9,662,583, equal to fifty-three cents per common share after providing for preferred dividends. Cash as of December 31, 1933, was $14,085,610."

It is good to learn that jobs have been found for more Canadian workmen; but there is something in this new activity about the export of nickel which casts a sinister shadow. Nickel, as pointed out in these columns some time ago, is used for many purposes, but it also is a very essential commodity for the manufacture of munitions of war.

We noted yesterday that a group of British firms had sold recently to Soviet Russia $5,000,000 worth of pure nickel—the biggest deal ever made by these concerns. Most of this, of course, was bought from Canada because we hold eighty per cent of the world's supply. It is possible that the sale of this product to Soviet Russia has any association with the statement of the executive head of the International Nickel Company of Canada, Limited, quoted above?

It is natural that Canada should sell her primary products in the world market. She is not supposed to know that if her export of nickel gradually increases it is the harbinger of another war. Nickel is used for many other things besides plating bullets and shells. Nevertheless, the sale by British concerns of nickel in large quantities to Russia, coupled with the statement of the president of the Canadian producing company, does not present a pleasant prospect.

PAPER MONEY
The London Free Press

The Chinese are given credit for inventing many things centuries before they were discovered in the Occidental world, such, for example, as chinaware, gunpowder and printing. But very few people know that the Chinese were the first to use paper money. Authorities on Chinese history believe that paper money was current in China at the beginning of the ninth century A.D.

INTOXICATION
The Winnipeg Tribune

Legislative bodies have difficulty in defining drunkenness, from a legal standpoint. Virginia (U.S.) liquor bill may help in the following terms to settle the question: "Any person who has drunk enough alcoholic beverages to so affect his manner, disposition, speech, muscular movement, general appearance, or behavior as to be apparent to observation shall be deemed to be intoxicated."

SHORTER HOURS AND RECOVERY
The New York Evening Post

Quick action is needed to reinforce the recovery programme. The federal government must do its part by expanding rather than curtailing relief. Industry must do its part by reducing working hours wherever possible. At the end of January, according to the preliminary figures of the American Federation of Labor, there were 11,690,000 jobless—only 2,000,000 less than at the bottom of the depression in March of 1933. Congress, in a mood for radical action, looks with favor on a proposal to enforce a thirty-hour week throughout industry.

Across the Bay

Ma Pattullo is absolute master of his House—in the last stages—while the wheels grind on—until we reach the end—on either the beginning.

By H. B. W.

THE MILLS of the gods ground fast on Wednesday and ground exceedingly small. They ground so fast that tons of grit rolled off the order paper and the business of the first session of the Eighteenth Legislature was all but complete by the end of the day.

Anyone who may have harbored the lingering thought that Premier Pattullo might not be able to hold all his party on such radical projects as the SPA should have seen this House at work on Wednesday. Liberals there are who fear the outcome of the SPA. But not one of them was prepared to break with his leader, on the smallest item of the governmental programme. Dr. Gillis and Mr. Barrow did vote against the Ladder bridge bill but, though this had the government's full support it was not strictly a government measure, and Dr. Gillis voted with Mr. McGeer later on. But that was all. No, Premier Pattullo emerges from this session absolute and unchallenged master of his party, with a strength among his followers seldom equalled in the past.

UNBROKEN LINE
THE PREMIER called the third reading of the SPA. The opposition demanded a division on Mr. Bruhn's motion to strike "property and civil rights" out of the long list of things which the government could control under the bill. For the first time a recorded division was to be taken on this, the most drastic clause in the whole legislation. Boldly every Liberal—even Mr. Manson, who had left the House three times before rather than vote for SPA—stood up in a line, unbroken and serene, to give his leader all the powers he asked. Down into the records of history went the names of every man who voted this historic day.

Had voted for and against the most important recorded departure in our constitutional system. But, grave as were the issues involved, important as was the occasion, there was no excitement about it, no echo, but no echo of dismay, or demonstrations of protest. The Premier stood up, unruffled and confident, and his colleagues smiled and Mr. McGeer smiled, too, like a man looking forward to a day of terrible reckoning, and SPA, or better or for worse, for richer or for poorer, was, excepting the mere formality of royal assent, the law of the land.

The Ladder Bridge went the same way, in spite of all the rumblings of the previous day, but with this reservation—Mr. Gray, the Minister of Lands, has made it clear that the Ladder Bridge, not the bridge proposed now, or he is going to know the reason why. This was not a break with the government on Mr. Gray's part. It is not the unprecedented spectacle of a minister of the Crown attacking government policy, for no final policy has been fixed by the government yet. It is a remarkable piece of independence and it presents interesting possibilities.

SPEED
BY THIS time in the session the larger issues fairly tumble over one another, and bills which would take days of argument in the early stages are passed in a few minutes. Bridges, railways, income taxes, municipal laws, land settlement policies—they will go through the mill at a dizzy speed. There is no time or flights of oratory now, no opportunity for wit and repartee, no use making long argument, for everyone knows exactly how he is going to vote, and nothing you can say will change him. Even when Mr. Murray turns, white with anger, on Mr. Planta and accuses the hon. gentleman of "betraying his people," Mr. Speaker merely calls him to order and we hurry on, leaving the wounded and dead behind us.

In the afternoon Mr. McGeer makes a final effort as Leader of the Opposition to halt the government's bridge policies. As he had done on the Ladder Bridge, he attacks the new Westminster Bridge with an energy which does not flag even after these five terrible weeks. He rips the whole scheme to pieces, denounces it in principle and practice, and says that a private toll bridge instead of a publicly-owned utility is a stain on the face of the New Deal.

Mr. Manson, with equal energy, defends the scheme and pilots his bridge bill through all stages without casualties, except the total loss of Mr. Barrow and Dr. Gillis, who break with the party to oppose the scheme. Mr. McGeer pounds his desk until the ceiling shakes again in his access of strength to the opposition. At the salvation of even two sinners Mr. McGeer's heart rejoices, but the salvation, one suspects, will not be permanent.

VETERAN
BUT WE descend from these heights of logic for a few moments to congratulate Mr. Pooley on the beginning of his twenty-third year in this House (a curious thing on which to congratulate anyone) and Mr. Pooley replies that he never expected this anniversary to be marked by the passage of the SPA and the last hopeless stand of democracy.

We also find time to attend to the little matter of voting Mr. King, of Columbia, his full sessional indemnity, even if he hasn't been here since the beginning of the session. No, there is nothing overlooked in the haste of the closing hours. Mr. Pattullo and his able young Attorney-General, Mr. Sloan, think of everything. How they can manage to handle the ocean of legislation on the order paper, how we avoid leaving some important bill unpassed and the country ruined, no one knows.

The last effort of Mr. McGeer, launched more as a matter of record than with any hope of success, was to move to give the government power to refund municipal as well as provincial debts, and to cut its interest payments down to 3 per cent. This was bluntly rejected by the government without explanation of its objection, even though Mr. McGeer appealed for some reason against his scheme, which was not compulsory, but permissive. The government did not intend to accept the plan, said Mr. Hart, and that was that. Once more the bells rang. Once more the solid Liberal phalanx stood shoulder to shoulder, the opposition for the second time that day.

But it was over at last. The order paper was all but cleared. There remained only the formal assent by the Lieutenant-Governor and the yells of delight, the blizzard of waste paper, as the Eighteenth Legislature goes home. Ah, yes, but it is not the end. As many a legislator realizes, facing his home folks again, it is only the beginning.

THE SECRET THOUGHT
"It is only a thought in my heart," said "Which no one shall ever know. While the long years come and go."

It was only a thought and he kept it there. Safely locked in his breast for years. But because his secret was a wordless song. And its meaning he found on his face. Oh, never a thought in the heart can lie. In secret for years on years. But at last it is glimpsed by each passer-by. And its meaning is plain and clear.

"It is only a thought in my heart," he said. "Which no one shall ever see." But that hidden thought was the thing men read. Through the whole of his destiny.

LOGGING AND WASTE

To the Editor:—My attention has been drawn to a letter in your issue of March 6, under the heading "Logging and Waste." If your correspondent had been able to hear or read the whole of my speech of February 26 in the Assembly he would find that his criticisms have already been answered. I sent to The Daily Province for its issue of this date a statement in which I dealt further with selective logging.

It must be confessed that I sensed that your correspondent, "Pseudotuga," is endeavoring to make a merit of faults that he is unwilling to correct.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

To the Editor:—Recent press reports state that the members of the Atlin and other members of the Legislature suggested certain changes in connection with the government agencies of the province.

I may say that Interim Report No. 23, made by me in my then capacity as department commissioner, deals solely and exhaustively with "Government Agencies and Provincial Services." Recommendations are also given for complete reorganization and decrease in the number of agencies.

When the Premier, then leader of the opposition, asked that my reports be made available to the House, the request was refused. No reason for refusal was given and it is now unnecessary to enter into the matter.

As these reports were compiled as the result of years of intimate personal knowledge of the agencies and other administrative services, there can now be no good reason why the information therein contained, which is available in no other form, should not be made available for the information of the members of the Legislature, or members of the public who are interested in administrative economy.

Through lack of information in the past, some half-hearted attempts at

EX TENEBRIS LUX
To the Editor:—Quite clear of politics and religion, and not only on my own, but on behalf of the thousands who have neither time nor opportunity to give public expression to their feelings, may I say a word of appreciation and thanksgiving?

There may be some who would deny the right of priests and ministers of the Gospel to take any active part in the discussion and settlement of these burning questions of the day affecting men's lives and social relationships; but there are few who will fail to admire the courage of those who have faced that inevitable opprobrium always heaped on innovators, whether in science, in manners and government, or in thought.

Their fearless action is an illustration of the never-to-be-forgotten fact that Christianity is alive—not dead, evolutionary not static. They are, with conscientious approval, doing to-day what they would not have dared do twenty or even ten years ago. One loves a man who, seeing his duty—something he feels himself specially fitted for and divinely called on to perform—cries out:

"I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul."

throws off those limitations that bind the fearful soul in shackles of old-worn convention, and goes to it with all his heart.

Very many will agree in appreciation of the bold stand made by our clergy in this connection; such men, to name four only, as Owen Jull, F. Conley, Robert Connell and Cecil Quinson.

While perhaps not admitting the validity of all their conclusions, there must be universal approval of their action in throwing light into the darkness that still hangs around our social and economic organizations; and where there is light there is sweetness. Not only in the physical, but in the intellectual and spiritual realms, do those "unsunned spaces" of human nature respond to the voice, however expressed, that says: "Let There Be Light!"

BOY SCOUTS' TAG DAY

To the Editor:—My attention has been drawn to a letter that appeared in your columns from a Mr. MacArthur, on the matter of a tag day held recently for Boy Scouts.

Some people appear to have been brought into this world with the fixed idea that it is their duty to try to stir up trouble. However, if the matter is of any interest to our readers, may I say that application was made by the executive of the Boy Scouts' Association, Victoria, district.

ASTHMA FRIEND LEFT JULIAN BROKE

With Charles Walcott as president, the Workers' Welfare Association, an organization composed of unemployed and employed ratepayers and non-ratepayers in Esquimalt, was held Tuesday evening at a meeting in the municipal hall.

A. Simmonds was named vice-president, and J. Irving secretary. The action of the relief work in applying to the municipal council for an increase in relief, will be discussed through the municipal meeting decided. Free will also be asked for in the fund.

WORKERS' GROUP IN ESQUIMALT

Every effort will be made to assist the membership of the association, which plans to include all unemployed persons in Esquimalt. In an increase in the relief allowance, attention was drawn to the fact that the government had refused to allow an increase, while the cost of living has been on the upswing for the last few months. Twenty-eight persons attended the meeting.

Comox Men Dispute Land Boundary

Agreement between two neighbors over the boundary line at Kye near Comox, lead to the trial which opened here yesterday before Justice Robertson in the Supreme court. With W. A. B. Paul suing Fred Bates for recovery of possession of lands and for an order restraining Bates from trespassing, Mr. Paul's case for the trial was set for Tuesday at 10 o'clock. The court that Kye Bay is being quite a summer resort. ASTHMA FRIEND LEFT JULIAN BROKE

Canadian Promoter Reached End of Road When Friend Decamped With Money

When his last friend turned on him and decamped with all the money he possessed, it meant the end of the road to Courtney C. Julian, fugitive Canadian promoter, who dramatically took his life by swallowing poison in the palatial Astor House at Shanghai. Julian, who had a large sum of money stored in a safety deposit vault at a Shanghai bank, asked a friend to get the money for him and entrusted him with the keys of the deposit box. Getting the money from the vault, the man disappeared with the money, leaving Julian stranded. It was then that Julian planned the last glittering party at which he entertained Lenora Levy, his secretary and confidante, before taking his life.

This sequel to Julian's abrupt passing was related by Shanghai newspapermen to K. C. Chung, manager of the China Realty Company at Shanghai, who arrived in Victoria yesterday by the liner Empress of Canada.

Since the boom period of 1930 and 1931 in Shanghai, when property values were inflated, realty business in the Chinese city has suffered stagnation, declared Mr. Chung at the Empress Hotel yesterday morning. Building has been confined to a number of large apartment projects and plans for the reconstruction of the city center of the Chinese municipality government and wide streets are being laid out with this object in view, the visitor stated.

Mr. Chung is a graduate of Reid College in Portland, Ore. He will make an extended stay in New York, where he has friends, before returning to the Orient.

An expression of sympathy to him in his illness and earnest hopes for his speedy recovery will be sent to Percy Wright, assistant in the City Clerk's office, from the City Council, as the result of a motion to that effect introduced at the council meeting yesterday.

Registry office here and LeRoy S. Cokely, land surveyor, were on the stand today. The trial is continuing.

F. S. Cunliffe of Nanaimo is conducting the defence.

EASTER CUSTOMS around the World

In Nice, France, provincials in native costumes hold gay folk dances in the streets at Easter time. Natives of southern France mingle with visitors from foreign lands to make this flower festival a period of singular beauty. One of the most colorful events of the fête is the procession in which many girls from the provinces, dressed in quaint garb, take part.

RAIL CHARTER BILL PASSES

Canadian North Eastern Company Given Year's Extension

After two speakers had spoken in favor and G. G. McGeer against, the Legislature yesterday passed a bill extending the charter of the Canadian Northeastern Railway Company for a line from Stewart, B.C., to Fort Graham off a period of one year, with the provision that if three months' work is done within that time, the period for completion may be extended up to five years.

The vote on second reading of the bill was 31 to 10. R. H. Pooley, K.C., Unionist, and Mr. W. Bruhn, Independent, and Clive M. Plante voted with the government in favor, and Mr. McGeer voted with the C.C.F. and other Independents against.

Mr. McGeer, in opposing the measure, said it came before the private bills committee as a private bill and they decided not to report it. It now came before the House as a government bill.

SAYS POLICY BAD It appeared to be the continuation of a bad policy in railways, a policy known as free trading in railways. He was against reporting it from the private bills committee because there appeared no prospect of work on the line being started in the near future.

The charter issued in part in 1909 was picked up a few years ago by a company which had no intention of doing anything with it except sell it to the highest bidder. It was sold, he believed, for $1,000,000. There were many reasons for objection to an extension of the charter. It had been said the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company had invested $2,000,000 in developing mining properties, but this Mr. McGeer believed would have been invested in respect of the fact the company had the charter in question.

Extension of the charter also, Mr. McGeer claimed, placed a whip in the hands of those who were opposed to the extension of the P.G.E. into the Peace River area. The day of exploiting public utilities was over. If a railway was to be built from Stewart as this charter provided for, it should be built as part of a national railway policy.

R. B. Burns, Liberal, Roseland-Trail, said the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company had always been to the front in development in Canada and were entitled to consideration. The company had spent $2,000,000 in exploitation work in the Portland Canal area and were entitled to a chance to continue that development to determine if there were business for the line.

W. J. Asselstine, Liberal, Atlin, said the matter had gone beyond a promotion scheme and the charter was in the hands of a sound company whose records made them worthy of consideration.

NEW COURSE FOR JOBLESS

Free instruction in elementary practical electricity will be afforded the unemployed of Victoria in a course scheduled to open at Boys' Central School on Tuesday, it was announced at the City School Board office today.

The classes will be conducted under the school board and the Department of Education, who are co-operating in the scheme. They will start at 2:30 o'clock and continue for two hours each school day. Those wishing to attend are advised to enroll at the Central School on the opening day. Further particulars on the classes may be secured from the school board office.

Decision to hold the course for the benefit of the unemployed was reached at a special meeting of the local school board yesterday.

HAIR CUTTING BEFORE HOUSE

Hairdressers Can Do Work on Children Up to Seven, Act States

Third reading was given in the Legislature yesterday evening to the Hairdressers' Act.

Regulations under the act apply to all establishments in municipalities of 750 population or more and in territory within four miles of the boundaries of any such municipality. Some of the important changes in the act provide for the disbursement of hairdressing parlors and schools in the same premises; exemption from examination in hairdressing by the barbers' board for hairdressers cutting hair of boys and girls up to seven years of age; provides for one-year apprentice permit cards; makes compulsory the holding of a registration card by any student working or studying at a hairdressing shop or hairdressing school and provides for at least 1,000 hours of study before a student presents himself for examination.

Apprentices must present themselves for examination one year after receiving a permit card. If failing to pass such examination, another year's permit card is granted. Upon a second failure, the apprenticeship card permit is revoked.

Provision also is made that all hairdressing schools must display a notice in letters of not less than one-quarter of an inch in height on the premises.

SCENIC VIEWS WILL BE SHOWN

Moving pictures and stills of the ascent of Oublette Peak and of the Emite Valley, with the mountains of the adjacent region, will be shown under the auspices of the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada in the New Thought Hall on Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Ermitte Valley is of particular interest to the local Alpinists as it will be the scene of their annual camp this year from July 17 to July 21. The pictures are in big demand among branches of the Alpine Club in Canada and United States, and it is expected this will be the only chance for members and the general public of viewing the site before the camp.

G. L. Harrison will show the pictures, giving his last lecture of the current season. Mr. Harrison has been busily engaged all season in speaking on Vancouver Island and forest destruction, and he is giving up public lectures until next season. He is now about to undertake preparation of further material for mountain work during this spring and summer.

Permission for members of the parks committee to secure rock for their work without bringing in a request every time they want a small amount was granted by the City Council at its meeting yesterday.

LAND POLICY GIVEN PRAISE

Pre-emptors Allowed More Leeway in New Government Bill

Changes in the government land settlement policy designed to allow pre-emptors to move into more suitable areas, drew considerable praise from members of the Legislature yesterday as the enabling bill went through committee.

Even from the Opposition benches there was favorable comment on the wisdom of the policy, which is expected to have the effect of consolidating areas settled under pre-emption, and bringing the settlers closer to the populated areas where their markets lie.

The Land Act with a host of other legislation was given third reading this morning as the House started to drive hard towards prorogation. The following measures were given final reading.

Amendment to the Stock-Brands Act, which defines the status of an inspector.

An amendment to the Fisheries Act which gives the Commissioner of Fisheries more control over the industry.

Amendment to the Legal Professions Act dealing with the Benchers Society.

An amendment to the Children of Unmarried Parents Act which provides for legal assistance being given the mother.

Amendment to the Coal and Petroleum Act and repeal of the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act, brought in to remove an obstacle in development of coal and petroleum.

Amendments to the Motor Vehicles Act will permit reciprocal arrangements with other provinces in respect to cars registered in one province and operating in another and restrict reports of accidents to municipal or provincial police, such reports not being open to public inspection.

An amendment to the Mineral Act dealing with crown granted claims, providing that title shall issue in the names of all the lawful holders. It also vests title in owners paying taxes, where one of the co-owners has failed to meet his share.

An amendment to the Factories Act prevents exemptions of Chinese establishments from the act on the grounds that they were not operating for profit. Under it, all establishments holding a laundry license come within its scope.

An amendment to the Collection Agents Licensing Act clarifies the wording in respect to licenses.

Progress was reported on an amendment to the Escheats Act which provides that where any beneficial interest from the holding of a registered person, whether the estate or interest of the deceased person therein was legal or equitable, is owing to the failure of the objects of the devise or other circumstances happening before or after the death of the deceased person, in whole or in part not effectually disposed of, the deceased person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have died intestate in respect of such part of the beneficial interest as is ineffectually disposed of.

Fifty Years In Civil Service

Harry Cathcart, Deputy Minister of Lands, Given Appreciative Tribute by Legislature

Special tribute was paid in the Legislature yesterday afternoon to Harry Cathcart, Deputy Minister of Lands, who has just completed fifty years in the provincial civil service. Premier Pattison extended his personal congratulations to the deputy minister, who, he commented, joined the service at thirteen years of age, and "although he had served fifty years had not reached superannuation age." Mr. Cathcart was born in Ireland in 1870.

R. H. Pooley, K.C., supplemented the tribute with remarks and the members applauded.

City Given Power to Deal With Company on Guarantee Liability

Negotiations between the City of Victoria and the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Company over the city's liability in connection with its guarantee on the earnings of the plant were foreshadowed in legislation introduced in the House yesterday afternoon by Byron Johnson, first member for Victoria, as an amendment to the city's private bill.

The city is empowered under the amendment to open the negotiations over an amount now equal to something like $140,000, covering a guarantee up to $25,000 for each year the company has been in operation. Formal claim for this guarantee has been filed each year by the company, but the city has always denied the liability on alleged failure of the company to complete its part of the agreement.

The new move would indicate, however, the full claim is now being pressed.

Another minor amendment was made to the private bill in committee, providing for rebates of half the

ASK CHANGE IN CITY HALL DAY

A petition from a large percentage of the employees of the City Hall, requesting that the working day of the staff be altered to start at 8 o'clock in the morning and end at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with 12 noon set as the closing time on Saturday, during the summer months, was referred to the financial committee for investigation when it came before the City Council yesterday.

The point was raised that while the suggested change did not incur any shortening in the number of hours served each day, it might be less convenient to the public than existing regulations.

VICTORIA MAN WED IN EAST

Edward T. Whiteley and Miss Virginia Gundy married Saturday

Smart Wedding in Windsor Attended By Many Toronto Guests

A wedding of much interest to local friends of the bridegroom was solemnized on Saturday afternoon, March 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fletcher Gundy, Victoria Avenue, Windsor, Ontario, when their daughter, Virginia, was united in marriage to Edward Thompson Whiteley of Toronto, son of Mrs. William H. Whiteley and the late Capt. Dr. A. E. Rummel, pastor of Central United Church, officiated.

An Easter background, with banks of palms and Easter lilies and fern, with tall candelabra holding white tapers, provided the setting for the wedding, and the music was played by Miss Virginia Beaton of Toronto.

A gown of white Alençon lace, fashioned on classic lines, with a blue lace, the only trimming being of the same shade as the bride, was chosen by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. J. Fletcher Gundy, of the Victoria Hill roses and orchids, showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Geraldine Gundy, who was her sister's maid of honor, was in blue lace, the only trimming being of the same shade as the bride, and necktie. Her hat was a Lily Dache model of matching net, of lilac silk and pink sweetpeas.

Mr. Jack Strucker of Toronto, cousin of the groom, was best man. Mrs. Gundy selected for her daughter's wedding a gown of yacht-blue mousseline de soie, and a hat of baki with touches of French blue and ivory, and she wore a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mr. J. H. Gundy of Toronto proposed the toast to the bride, his niece, and Mr. Whiteley replied. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Whiteley left for an eastern trip. On their return they will reside in Toronto.

For travelling, the bride wore a navy blue suit, on windproof lines, with a small, off-the-face hat and blue and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Miss Virginia Beaton, Miss Ruth Beaton, Miss Shirley Ross, Miss Phyllis Ross, Miss Lorena Jarman, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gundy, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. DIVORCEE ASKS HONORS CURRIE ESTATE SHARE

Los Angeles, March 29.—Superior Judge Charles S. Crail yesterday granted Mrs. Hersee M. Carson, divorced widow of George Campbell Carson, former Montana prospector and inventor, her petition for the Citizens National Trust and Savings Bank be named special administrator of Carson's $1,000,000 estate. Mrs. Carson was divorced by Carson last November and, under a will executed in 1927, was named chief beneficiary of his estate. Opposed to her Carson, are the deceased's six brothers, to whom Carson left one-half of his estate in what they maintain to be a later will; and fifteen nieces and nephews, designated to inherit the balance. Mrs. Carson contended that, although she was granted an interlocutory decree here last November, the divorce had not become final, and she is entitled to share in the estate.

We want to be absolutely sure your family will take to Heinz Cooked Spaghetti like an old favourite. So we use the highest quality ingredients to make it perfect.

We even make the original dry spaghetti. In part of our Leamington plant, specially equipped for spaghetti making we mix it, and knead it, and press it, and dry it.

Then we cook it. Just enough. Soft, digestible—but not soupy, not “mushy”. And we season it with oh! such a delightful sauce! Luscious ripe Heinz-grown tomatoes, fresh creamy milk and butter, and a dash of seasoning. A sauce that does to spaghetti what Heinz Ketchup does to an omelette. And we add fine Canadian cheese—for more flavour—for extra nourishment.

We follow an old Italian recipe, so Heinz Cooked Spaghetti is as delicious as Italy's finest.

Have Heinz Cooked Spaghetti for lunch, for dinner, as a happy change from meat, or as a substitute for potatoes. Have it often. It's quick to prepare. All ready to heat and serve! And it's thrifty, too. Practically a meal in one tin, for just a few cents at your Dealers!

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1934

This should be a fortunate day for those who buy and sell. Benefic aspects rule although there is a menacing aspect of Mars.

Discussion of war possibilities may be widespread, but the war will probably not break out until the summer.

The planetary government appears to be preoccupied with the problem of certain lines of merchandise. New fortunes may be won by a few, although millionaires are to be as scarce as dollars among the unemployed.

The later hours of the day are auspicious for persons wielding power over human destiny. Governors and mayors should benefit.

Sweeping reforms in many states and cities are promulgated, but they will not be thorough enough to assure complete victory over the powers of evil.

While crime and criminals will be discouraged by more drastic enforcement of laws, many evil deeds will continue to flourish through political protection, astrotrology, and other means.

Again the stars prophesy that women are to be in protest because cities are not safe places in which to dwell. Public safety is to be rebuked by means of sensational movements for reform.

Hotel proprietors and managers of summer resorts are to profit in the coming summer, which will bring increase of trouble to many persons.

Gardens and parks, now under a direction of the stars which should be beneficial, increased interest in landscape engineering is forecast.

Persons whose birthdate it is to have the luxury of a year of money gain, but there may be disappointments in domestic relations.

Children born on this day probably will be energetic and enterprising. Subjects of

This sign usually succeed in what really interests them. Many are of scholarly nature.

John Fiske, historian and philosopher, was born on this day, 1842. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Paul Verlaine, French lyric poet, 1844, and Alexander C. Humphreys, engineer and educator, 1861.

HOLIDAY PAY IS RESTORED

Members of the permanent outside staff of the city will have returned to their former holiday allowance instead of receiving half-pay for the two-week vacation they are given during the year, as the result of a motion introduced by Alderman Andrew McGavin, seconded by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, and passed by the City Council yesterday.

The motion rescinded the action taken by the council last year when members of the regular outside staff were given only one week's pay for their two-week holidays, while those of the inside staff received full pay for the two weeks.

Such action indicated discrimination, Alderman McGavin stated.

In view of the fact the outside staff was reduced to a skeleton, the mayor voiced the opinion that action might be taken without serious effect on the city's budget.

Peter and Sarah, twins of Hon. W. S. Carson, recently were christened in a dockyard in Portsmouth, England.

RADIO STARS COMING HERE

The management of the Empire Theatre announced to-day the booking of the "Arizona Wranglers" for a four-day engagement on the stage, commencing next Monday.

The "Arizona Wranglers" are well and favorably known in Victoria for their exceptionally fine programmes on the air. This company was one of the first to introduce cowboy songs and the musical harmony of the range to the public on this continent. Their personal appearance in Victoria should prove popular with radio fans.

DOMINION THEATRE

Herbert Marshall heads the strong cast assembled for "The Solitaire Man," startling drama of super Continental crookdom which is at the Dominion Theatre.

The casting of Marshall in another role as a sophisticated "gentleman crook" brings him to the screen in a vehicle that has all the appeal of "Trouble in Paradise." The added drama of a smashing story by Wells and Samuel Spewack provides a thrilling basis for the action.

EMPIRE THEATRE

There is a striking resemblance between Vicki Baum, now visiting St. Louis, and Christa Winsloe, author of "Maedchen in Uniform," now playing at the Empire Theatre. Both women have leaped to outstanding positions in the world of letters, and more particularly the stage—Vicki Baum through "Grand Hotel" and Christa Winsloe through the world success of "Maedchen in Uniform."

The slender Southerner had 34's

Mehlhorn had 72 yesterday and was tied for second with Mortie Davis, Detroit, who shot 67 to go with his opening round of 72. Tommy Armour, the black Scot from Detroit, and George T. Dunlap Jr., national amateur champion, were together at 141, while Wuffy Cox, Brooklyn sharpshooter, had 142. Great Film Will Open at Dominion

"Catherine the Great" will open at the Dominion Theatre to-morrow.

This picture, based on the life of the famous Russian Empress, from the day of her arrival at the Russian court, through her strange marriage to the half-mad grand duke Peter and on to her ascension to the throne, introduces, in the title role, Elizabeth Bernger, the vivacious Viennese star who is the most discussed dramatic actress on the European stage and screen to-day. Opposite Miss Bernger, in the role of Peter, is Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

CAPITOL THEATRE

A thorn always in the side of Slim Summerville, Universal comedy star, is that when he arrived in Hollywood in 1913 he discovered a man named Vic Potel playing in "Slippery Slim" comedies and soon discovered that everyone thought he was Potel. Strangely enough, in "Love, Honor and Oh, Baby!" which is now at the Capitol Theatre, they work together for the first time, although the work employed on the same lot two decades ago.

"THE YEOMEN" CAST NAMED

An excellent cast has been chosen to portray the leading roles in Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Yeomen of the Guard," which will be presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre Friday and Saturday evenings, April 6 and 7, by the Victoria Operatic Society. Mail orders are now being received at the theatre and the box office will open next Wednesday morning.

Dorothy Parsons, who has come well to the fore in the operatic and concert field of late years, has been chosen to sing the leading feminine role, that of Elsie Maynard. Flaming opposite her as Jack Point will be Harry J. Davis, who sang this role some years ago in Victoria.

Others in the cast will be Jack Matheson, who will be Sir Richard Cholmondeley; Dudley Wickett, singing the role of Colonel Fairfax; Harry Johns as Sergeant Meryll; Frank Trings as Leonard Meryll; Jack Townsend, who will be Wilfred Shadbolt; Phyllis Deaville, who will be Phoebe Meryll; Madge Shrimpton, as Captain Carruthers and Dick George, W. Buckett and Percy Ridgely, who have been chosen as the leading yeomen.

Some of Gilbert and Sullivan's finest music is contained in the score of "The Yeomen of the Guard." There are many tuneful chorus numbers and the soloists, trios and quartettes are splendid.

Two Pictures At Playhouse

While he was directing romance before the camera, for a talking picture, Clarence Brown, famous screen director, was in the midst of a real-life romance of his own. This was disclosed when, immediately after he finished production of "Looking Forward," Cosmopolitan's vivid drama of to-day, he slipped away to Nevada, and shortly after the screen colony learned of his marriage there to Alice Joyce, well-known screen actress.

The directors did not say a word about his romance, as he piloted Elizabeth Allan and Colin Clive through their love scenes in the picture. Nobody learned the secret until Hollywood heard the news as a distinct surprise.

"Looking Forward," which opens to-day at the Playhouse Theatre with Lionel Barrymore in the starring role, is based on the famous stage play, "Service," and has the unique distinction of having been titled by no less a person than President Franklin D. Roosevelt himself.

Also being shown are Esther Ralston and Basil Rathbone in "After the Ball," a Gaumont-British picture.

ROMANO THEATRE

"She Done Him Wrong" starring Mae West and Carey Grant, the picture which broke all records for re-ture engagements and set a vague fashion, will be the feature attraction at the Romano Theatre to-day, Friday and Saturday.

Also being shown are the same programme in a really thrilling western, "Somewhere in Sonora," with John Wayne and his horse, Duke, as the feature characters.

Mr. Wismer stressed, however, the importance of the matter to Vancouver and quoted a message from Mayor L. D. Taylor to the effect that it involved $1,000,000 of the city's revenue.

MAKES PLEA FOR YOUTH
A. M. Manson, K.C., Says Money Should Be Put Into Industry in Province

Recommending the people of British Columbia put their money behind the industries of the province in an effort to solve the problems of the youth of to-day, A. M. Manson, K.C., addressed members of the Rotary Club at noon to-day in the Empress Hotel. He said the people of this province had no idea of its wealth in gold. He urged them to put their money behind mining.

"Surely this is a responsibility for us all to be up and doing," Mr. Manson said. "We should do something, even if only a little. There is some little thing that each one of us could do towards helping solve the problem of youth. I think we have all been suffering from an acute attack of selfishness and greed in this respect."

CHOIR RENDERS LENTEN CANTATA
Centennial Singers Give Effective Interpretation of Passion Music

The talented choir of Centennial United, forty-seven voices strong, under J. W. Buckler, conductor, yesterday evening at the church gave a worthy rendition of Maunders' Lenten cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," elaborating the theme of Christ's last few days of life.

The solo roles were taken by Mrs. Evelyn Eden, Mrs. W. C. Williams, Miss Mary Samuels, Mrs. H. T. Lock, W. M. T. Touche, George H. Farmer, A. W. Lucking, Joseph Almond and F. Hollins.

Mrs. Paul Green, with her brilliant handling of the organ accompaniment, gave an interpretation that provided an effective instrumental background upon which the vocal choruses and solos were imposed.

Mrs. Williams, soprano, and Mr. Almond, baritone, were particularly effective in their solos in the final dramatic chorus, "Crucify Him," and the demands of the mob before Pilate for his blood were rendered with penetrating effect. The historic choruses "Crucify Him" and the demands of the mob before Pilate for his blood were rendered with penetrating effect.

INDIAN PARTY TO VISIT CITY
Details of the visit to Victoria of eleven boys from the Indian residential school at Anahout, under the charge of Rev. Joseph Jones, were completed at an executive meeting of the Boys' Work Board of the Religious Education Council of Greater Victoria yesterday evening.

The group will set out from Anahout in a motorboat of their own construction, and will call at Alberni, where a concert and football and basketball matches have also been arranged. Some hours will be spent at Nanaimo.

W. H. Warren was elected by the executive at the same meeting to organize a softball league for the Trail-ranger groups of the district.

Blue Ribbons Beaten In Deciding Game For C. Cage Title

THE Province Rally In Last Minutes Decides Battle

Score 30 to 25 Victory to Capture Provincial Senior Men's Championship

ART CHAPMAN IN BRILLIANT FORM

(By Times Staff Representative)

Vancouver, March 29.—Coming through like true champions in the last four and a half minutes of the game, Vancouver Province defeated Victoria Blue Ribbons, 30 to 25, here yesterday evening in the fifth and final clash for the British Columbia senior A men's basketball championship. With the score tied, 25 to 25, The Province put on the winning spurt, and two field baskets by Purves and Armstrong and a free shot by Kennington put the game on ice. It was a grand victory for the newspaper squad and a tough defeat for the Victoria titleholders.

Defeat of the Blue Ribbons marked the passing of the Canadian championship from the Capital City. Last year the tea and coffee boys came through in brilliant fashion to lift the national crown from Windsor-Walkersville-Alumni and they were rated strong contenders again this season, but their bid for a second straight crown was ended by the Province. The Ribbons played the game without Manager Harvey McIntyre, who was unable to make the trip. Tommy Little had charge of the club.

Everton, whose early activity has left them with a wealth of international talent, has notified other clubs they are prepared to receive offers for several well-known players. The men up on the block are: James Dunn, Scottish international inside-right; Edward Critchley, outside-right; William Bocking, full-back; Archibald Clark, half-back or forward; John McGourty, Scottish junior international forward; Turner, outside-left; and William Coggin, goalkeeper. Everton paid more than $20,000 in transfers for these players.

While there are no news of managerial appointments at Arsenal or Aston Villa, Middlebrough have selected their man to succeed Peter McWilliam, who is retiring at the end of the present season. The man chosen for the job is William Gilroy, formerly manager of Grimsby Town. Gilroy at one time played for Grimsby and later for Lancaster Town. He became manager of Grimsby Town in 1920 when the club was struggling to keep its place in the second division. During Gilroy's reign of office Grimsby won the championship of the northern section and finished second in league two in 1928-29, to secure promotion to the first division. Cardiff City, who are in grave danger of having to play for re-election, have decided to appoint Watkin Jones as their new manager. In making this announcement the club stated that Wilson, who carried out the duties since the resignation of Fred Stewart, will be retained on the staff as secretary and assistant manager.

British professional golfers are not in favor of amateur competition in the big-money professional golf tournaments. That fact has been disclosed because the promoters of one such tournament, scheduled for 1934 suggested that amateurs be invited to compete but only for appropriate trophies. The Professional Golfers' Association, however, indicated that the idea would not be acceptable. The P.G.A. may have had excellent reasons for the attitude in this particular case, but behind all their reasons is a simple fact: the amateur does not exist in Canada and the United States, where amateurs compete regularly in open tournaments.

Such an attitude may not be altogether unreasonable. The professional knows that he is a better golfer than the amateur. If the amateur beats him he regards it as a fluke; and when the fluke comes off he is too ready to feel that it makes him look foolish. If there were a better understanding between amateurs and professionals the occasional victory of the amateurs would excite no such feeling. Similar jealousy does not exist in Canada and the United States, where amateurs compete regularly in open tournaments.

Three University of London boat crews competed in the All-England Cup final on the Thames. The stroke of the University College and Hospital eight caught a crab and fell overboard. The London School of Economics' boat sank before it reached the winning post. So King's College won because they had managed just to keep afloat!

Novelty Event At Uplands Golf Club

A novelty tournament will be staged at the Uplands Golf Club tomorrow. It will be a mixed grass-some meet, which means that the four players will drive off from the tee, the partners deciding which ball will then be played. The player opposite to the drive selected will play the second stroke, and thereafter play will alternate until holed out. Players will select their own partners and arrange for their opponents and starting times. Post entries will be accepted.

Spencers' Elevens Play On Mainland

Inaugurating what is expected to become an annual event, soccer elevens representing the Victoria and Vancouver stores of David Spencer Ltd. will meet at Cambie Street grounds, Vancouver, tomorrow morning in an inter-store football match. The local squad, accompanied by a large number of followers, will leave here at midnight to-night. In addition to the soccer team, a basketball squad will make the trip and play an exhibition game with the mainland representatives. About forty-five will make the trip.

Calgary Captures Northwest Hockey

Defeat Vancouver Lions 6 to 1 in Deciding Game For Championship of Northwestern Professional League; Harris Gets Pair of Goals

Vancouver, March 29.—Calgary Tigers were en route home today, carrying with them the Northwestern Professional Hockey League's first championship.

Tigers grabbed off the circuit's honors here yesterday evening when they overpowered Lions 6 to 1 in the fifth and deciding game of the three-out-of-five series.

While Tigers broke through an almost untested Vancouver defence to score practically at will, Lions were unable to get more than one shot past Red McCusker, veteran Calgary net-minder.

McCusker, rated at the top of the league's net custodians during the regular schedule, shed pucks and broke up plays with a nonchalance and ease that brought more than 2,000 excited fans to their feet, cheering for the spectacular performance.

On the basis of the series statistics Tigers outscored Lions nineteen goals to fourteen. Fifteen of the prairie squad's scores were counted on individual efforts while Lions broke even, scoring seven goals on solo rushes and seven on combination play.

SMITH HIGH MAN
Clint Smith, Vancouver centre, was high-scoring for the series with six points, five goals and an assist. Sammy McAdam, Lions winger, was second with five points. Gordon Savage, Tip O'Neill and Louis Coupez of Tigers each collected four points.

DETROIT CLUB IS REVAMPED

Three New Men Will See Action in Final Hockey Game Against Toronto

Detroit, Mich., March 29.—Jack Adams to-day had a drastic shakeup in his Detroit Red Wings after watching Toronto Maple Leafs trounce the Wings 5 to 1 and tie up the National Hockey League series yesterday evening.

A complete forward line will be promoted from the Detroit Olympics for the fifth and deciding game to-morrow night. The Olympic players who will join the Red Wings are Gene Carrigan, Ron Moffatt and Gus Marker.

Adams will drop Frank Carson, Gordon Pettit and Wilf Starr. Marker is a Camrose, Alta., product and is a fast skater and good stickhandler. He came to Detroit from Tulsa of the American Association and in 1932-33 played with the Red Wings.

Moffatt, a left winger, also came to Detroit from Tulsa and played with Red Wings in the 1932-33 season. Weighing 170 pounds, Moffatt was a power on Olympic attacks throughout the season.

GROUSE TRIAL WILL BE HELD

Much Interest Over Victoria Gun Dog Club Event on April 8; Call Meeting

A great deal of interest is being shown in the grouse trial to be held by the Victoria and District Gun-Dog Club on April 8.

Grouse are reported plentiful along the Cowichan Lake Road, and where the event will be held, and many local sportsmen are grooming their dogs for the event.

The fact that such an experienced map as L. O. Hillier of Vancouver has been secured to judge the dogs, has done a great deal to stimulate interest, and a number of entries from up-land points are expected.

Two silver cups will be up for competition, besides the usual cash prizes and certificates of merit.

A meeting will be held to-morrow evening at the Westholme Hotel to make final arrangements for the trial and, following the meeting, J. W. Jones of the provincial game farm will give a talk on pheasant raising. This should be very interesting and instructive, and anyone interested is invited to attend.

BASKETBALL AT WEST ROAD GYM

Two games of basketball will be played in the West Road Hall to-morrow evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock. Slings will meet the Beavers, while a girls' game will be the other fixture. Dancing and refreshments will follow.

Toronto Leafs and Chicago Win Game

Former Defeat-Detroit 5 to 1 to Even Series For National Hockey League Championship; Chicago Trounces Maroons 3 to 0 in Stanley Cup Semi-finals

Canadian Press
Detroit, Mich., March 29.—Detroit's fondest hopes had been rudely shattered to-day in one of hockey's most astounding upheavals. Dreams of a National League title coming to the border for the first time seemed to have not much chance of coming true.

When Toronto Maple Leafs whipped the Red Wings here yesterday evening 5 to 1 to even the five-game series and force a deciding game to-morrow night, there was little except hope in the camp that only a few days ago was cocksure and eager. The Leafs had suddenly become the favorites.

Fourteen thousand spectators astounded yesterday evening as the Canadian section winners knocked the last props from the staggering Wings with only a hope his team would be a victory march for the lightweight of Jack Adams became a triumphal parade by the Leafs.

The "kid" line of Charlie Conacher, Joe Primeau and Harvey Jackson made a dramatic return to form and the Leafs rallied around the game's heaviest scoring star. The Wings, who won the first two games of this series in Toronto, had no strength to call on in this emergency.

REVAMPS TEAM
Adams, not as urbane and confident as usual, came out of the struggle with only a hope his team would return to form. He announced he was discarding his third-string forward line of Gordon Pettit, Frank Carson and Wilf Starr.

From Detroit Olympics of the international League Adams is promoting a complete forward line, Gene Carrigan, Ron Moffatt and Gus Marker. The Detroit manager admitted it was a desperate move.

"But we have to do something," he said. "The Leafs just pulled away from us yesterday."

Flashing as great hockey as they did during their early and mid-season drive through the regular schedule, the Leafs crushed the Red Wings from the start. The Wings hung on gamely for two periods against a team that skated faster, passed better, was fresher and stronger.

In those sessions the Wings were outplayed, but only when they were short-handed—penalties did the Leafs show a thorough punch. Burr Williams was serving time in the first stanza when Primeau tallied on a power play. Ken Doraty and Harold Cotton were credited with assists.

CONACHER SCORES
Conacher bagged the second in the middle period while the Wings were striving without Eddie Wiseman, banished for tripping. Then the Leafs capped this opportunity—taking as many as 11 shots in a third counter early in the last period. Primeau got it on Conacher's pass and Eddie Goddell was in the penalty box at the time.

Primeau's second goal was the finishing blow. There was no more punch left in the Wings after that one and the Leafs eked it out to the finish.

Cooney Welland, Detroit centre, sandwiched a goal between brilliant marksmen by Charlie Sands and Harvey Jackson, but the Toronto force had all the edge.

King Clancy, who played with a sprained thumb, was carried out of the game just as the first period was a gashed face. He collided with Doug Young, Detroit defenceman. Several stitches were required to close a wound on Clancy's right eye and another on his nose.

There was every prospect, however, the veteran will be in place to-morrow night.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Toronto, Primeau (Doraty-Cotton), 14:59. Penalties: Jackson, Williams.

Second period—2, Toronto, Conacher (Primeau-Blair), 16:47. Penalties: Primeau.

Third period—3, Toronto, Primeau (Conacher), 5:44; 4, Toronto, Sands, 8:25; 5, Detroit, Welland (Goddell), 19:15. Penalties: Blair, Goodell, Primeau, Williams.

Montreal, March 29.—Last night's Stanley Cup final and a world hockey championship for Chicago, the Black Hawks flapped heavily toward victory. They pounced on Montreal Maroons here yesterday evening with a deadly swoop, beating the Montrealers down with a 3 to 0 shut-out at 11,000 fans looked on, and carrying a three-goal lead into the second game at Chicago Sunday night.

Maroons, conquerors of New York Rangers, Stanley Cup holders in the first round of the National Hockey League elimination series, proved only a light snack for the eager Hawks yesterday evening. A lightning stroke at the start of the game brought Hawks a goal in the first forty-three seconds. They ripped furious attacks at the Maroons through a scoreless second period, and then struck twice again in the first few minutes of the last frame.

Hawks' lead gave Maroons an apparently hopeless task next Sunday night. Three goals looked pretty formidable to Maroons to-day.

GARDINER BRILLIANT
Charlie Gardiner, canny little goalie recently awarded the Vesina Trophy as the league's best goalie this season, proved his right to the title. He kicked out thirty-two hot shots as the Maroons boomed away at him steadily. Most of the Maroon shooting came from wild scrambles around the stubborn Chicago defence. They slammed fourteen shots.

Maranville will be confined to bed for several weeks but his physicians said there is little hope of the injury cutting short playing career.

Attempting to score from this a double steal, Maranville ran into Norman Kie, Yankee catcher, breaking his left leg between ankle and knee. Maranville credited with scoring the run and the score at 3 to 2. The one and the Leafs eked it out to the finish.

STANLEY CUP MATCHES SET

Dates Announced By Frank Calder For Games in Pro Hockey Classic

Detroit, Mich., March 29.—President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League, announced here yesterday evening the first two games of the Stanley Cup finals will be played on the home of the N.H.L. champions next Tuesday and Thursday.

Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings will decide the league championship here to-morrow night, when they play the fifth game of their series. Calder said the four clubs concerned in the Stanley Cup series had agreed on the dates.

If Chicago Black Hawks defeat Montreal Maroons in their series, the third and fourth cup games will be played at Chicago on Sunday, April 8, and Tuesday, April 10. Should Maroons eliminate the Hawks, these games will be played at Montreal, Saturday, April 7, and Tuesday, April 10.

If a fifth game is necessary, the teams will move back to the home of the N.H.L. champions, a playoff innovation. Hitherto "one team" has played two away games to start and finished at home with all three.

In the third period Romnes passed to Thompson on left wing as he crossed the Montreal blue line. Thompson circled in a corner and then cut loose with an angle shot that dropped neatly into the cage between Kerr's body and the goal post. Two minutes later Don McPadden and Johnny Gottselig notched another goal for the Hawks. Johnny stick-handled over the line and they had a couple of shots at Dave before McPadden rifled one into the back of the net from about ten feet out.

Summary

First period—1, Chicago, Romnes (Thompson), 43. Penalties: Trotter, Smith, Abel.

Second period—No score. Penalties: Conacher, March, Frew.

Third period—2, Chicago, Thompson (Romnes), 1:00; 3, Chicago, McPadden (Gottselig), 1:30; Penalty: Coulter.

Hagenlacher In Win Over Hoppe

Chicago, March 29.—Erie Hagenlacher, Germany, took undisputed possession of first place in the world 18.2 ball line billiard championship race yesterday evening by defeating the veteran Willie Hoppe, New York, 400 to 113, for his second straight victory in fourteen innings.

Hagenlacher, who defeated Ora Morningstar of San Diego, Calif., in his first start, was Hoppe's complete master to-night as he displayed the rare form that won him the world's ball line title in 1925 and 1927. His execution of shots was almost faultless and his high run for the match totaled 138.

MACCABEES TO MEET

A meeting of the Maccabees football players and their lady friends will be held at 845 North Park Street, to-night at 8 o'clock.

Moncton Hawks To Meet Fort William

Open Allan Cup Hockey Finals at Toronto Saturday Night; Moncton Drops Game to Hamilton 2 to 1 But Wins Series By Lone Goal

Toronto, March 29.—Moncton Hawks prepared to-day to defend the Allan Cup against Fort William's invading Blue shirts, but they might have been packing their bags for the return trip to the Maritimes.

Beaten 2 to 1 in the second game of the eastern finals here yesterday evening by a fighting band of Hamilton Tigers, the 1933 national amateur hockey champions squeezed their way into this year's title round on the strength of a 2 to 0 whipping they handed the Tigers Monday.

Their 3 to 2 count in the total-goal series qualified them to battle the western champions in a series starting here Saturday night.

Bill Miller's third-period shot, lifted over Hawke Marsh's kneeling figure after the Tiger goalie had stopped a previous drive with his forehead, won the Maritimers the eastern Canadian title. It came in a scramble around the Tiger net as Hawks pressed the man advantage a penalty to Jack Howard gave them.

Moncton snipers had peppered the tall Bengal netminder with a dozen shots and one of them cut a gash that took five stitches to close. Dazed, he dropped to his knees and cleared the puck. Before he could get back into position "Dud" James had snapped up the rubber and laid it on Miller's stick.

A vastly different team from the beaten outfit of Monday night, Tigers held Hawks for fifty-four minutes of hockey while they rapped in two goals, one with a man advantage and the other while they were short a player.

Bill Gail was serving a penalty two minutes and seventeen seconds after the middle period started when Jack Worthing took Norval Fitzgerald's pass out from behind the net to beat Foster. Fred Radke was parked on the penalty bench and Hawks were getting Marsh when Howard broke away alone two minutes and twenty-eight seconds later, swept around Bill Miller, the only players he had to beat, and drove the puck past Foster.

Four thousand persons, many of them from Hamilton, shouted themselves hoarse as Tigers fought their losing battle.

SUMMARY

First period—No score. Penalties: Gail 2, Farrell.

Second period—1, Hamilton, Worthing (Fitzgerald), 2:17; 2, Hamilton, Howard (Fitzgerald), 5:45. Penalties: Gail, Radke, McManus, Howard.

Third period—3, Moncton Hawks, Miller (James), 14:28. Penalties: Radke, Howard 2, James, Fitzgerald.

Referees: E. L. Yeo and Tony McKintyre, both of Vancouver.

A Mystery Novel

By K. S. DAIGER

(Copyright by Macrae-Smith Company)

"Bully!" I said, with real pleasure, for Reynolds before becoming the managing editor of my paper had been the star reporter for several other sheets. He could write the most thrilling and dramatic stories I have ever read.

In spite of all my hurry, it was long after eight o'clock before I could break away. The shadows of the October evening had closed in and I had a three-quarters of an hour drive before me.

I dug out my old revolver from a bottom drawer. I had never fired it but once, but I took it along. I dusted it off and saw that it was properly loaded.

Then I started my flivver and was off for Towson. I drove rapidly but cautiously, frequently looking back to see if, by any chance, anyone was interested in my movements. For some time I kept a suspicious eye on a large black sedan which kept directly behind me, but at Towson it branched off to the York Road while I kept on up into the Dulany Valley.

From this point, I proceeded with even greater care, dimmed my lights and drove for half a mile, and stopped; drove another half-mile and stopped short around a curve.

It was not completely dark.

At last I was convinced that I was not followed and when I came to a little dirt road leading through the woods in the general direction of the Paige grounds, I ran my car a short distance off the main highway and well up into the bushes. Then I turned off my lights, locked the ignition and all the doors, for I wanted to be sure that I should find it there safe in case I should find a jam.

This done, I started off as quietly as possible for the house. The road, fortunately, was a fairly wide one, and as long as I stuck to the centre, I had little trouble in stumbling along. Ten minutes later, I came out on the crest of a hill overlooking the Paige estate. I could just make out the various buildings looming through the gloom. There was the main house and the outhouses and the big old mansion. Then Murray's home and that of John Paige, and far down in a little hollow, a white cottage that belonged to Ranny.

But they were all dark. Not a twinkle of light anywhere. Even the gardener's house was black. There was something melancholy about the sight of this big empty place, devoid of light or life, as if the spirit of tragedy hovered over it—as indeed it did.

Swiftly and silently, I walked down the hillside, skirted around the desolate old mansion, and so at last I came to the first cellar window on the right of Ranny's cottage.

Here I stopped and looked out my gun, alert for any sound. But there was the silence of the grave. Only far away the mournful chanting of the frogs in the Gunpowder marches.

CHAPTER XXXVIII

I peered in the window. All dark and silent.

Was I the first or the last? I opened it quietly, gave one last look around, and dropped into the blackness below.

Remembering Anderson's caution, I gave one sharp whistle, which was instantly answered by a return whistle.

I looked around, trying to accustom my eyes to the darkness. Then I heard a low voice.

"Kay, is that you?"

"Carroll," I stammered. "Carroll, did you speak?"

"Right-o," and I felt a hand on my arm.

"This way," and I felt myself led through the blackness until at last we reached what my feet told me was the coal bin, the floor covered with a small amount of coal.

"Sit down," ordered Carroll, and I dropped on the bare uncomfortable lumps, making a terrific din as I did so.

"I thought you were knocked out," I said in bewilderment.

"Nothing else but," answered Carroll, his voice the meanest thread of a whisper. "I was hit pretty hard but not too bad to get out here to-night. Anderson wanted me particularly because I am a dead shot." (This was entirely true. Carroll had been the crack shot on the Cornell University rifle team and later on the New York Gun and Rifle Range and had held the outdoor and indoor championship for several years.)

"Who did it, Dickey?" I asked.

"Blest if I know," he answered softly. "But I hope the inspector's right and I can get a couple of shots at the bird to-morrow."

Then he reached over and clutched me on the arm.

"The window," he whispered.

I looked and we could just make out a huge shadow outlined against the sky.

The window was opened softly and we heard a low whistle.

"The inspector," said Carroll, and we both gave an answering call.

Anderson dropped into the cellar noiselessly, closed and locked the window after him, and came with no difficulty directly to the bin.

"Is Kay here?" he asked.

"Here, sir," I answered.

"Good!"

"Come have an easy chair," invited Carroll. "This coal is pretty comfortable. One could ask nothing better."

The inspector laughed gently. "This is only the start," he said. "Wait and see how it feels after six or seven hours of it!"

Dickey groaned.

Anderson came on into the bin and threw himself down into the coal.

"Now listen to me attentively, boys," he began. "Something has happened which I had not counted upon. I've followed Kirk Judson's suggestion and taken a lesson from the ladies."

"What's that?" we both asked.

"Well, I've been thinking over that letter that Mrs. Paige received the morning of her death, and I've been going over in my mind all the places where she could have destroyed it. My own thought is that she probably touched it off in an ash tray or lit a match to it and threw it in one of the open fireplaces. However, she may have thought that the ash would be noticed—I don't know. Maybe she didn't burn it, at all, and we may find it somewhere."

"But on the way up I wondered what my own wife does with the trash, and I recalled that I have often seen her slip down in the cellar, throw it into the furnace and burn it."

"You're wrong, inspector," interrupted Carroll. "I know that Hurley and Katz and myself went over this cellar and we thought of that and looked at the ash."

There were a lot of ashes there but no pieces of paper.

"I know," said Anderson. "But you were looking for paper. I want only one scrap—just one word in a certain handwriting. Then I shall know that I am correct. Whatever the risk, I want to look in that furnace now."

He rose to his feet and took off his coat. In this, he carefully wrapped his flashlight.

"I'll do it alone," he said. "You boys listen and call me at the first sound."

We then him go to the furnace and heard him a glimpse of the interior as the light illuminated it.

Anderson had picked up a short poker and we could hear him moving it around, but scarcely making a sound as he did so.

Uncle Wiggly and the Growler

(By HOWARD R. GARIS.)

After Uncle Wiggly had put on his hat and his fur coat, for the wind was blowing cold, as it often does in March, the rabbit gentleman said to his wife:

"Is there any maple sugar left?"

"Oh, yes, many large chunks," answered Mrs. Longears. "But why, Wiggly," she asked, "do you want maple sugar as you are going out to look for adventures?"

"For you are going adventuring, aren't you?"

"Oh, yes," Uncle Wiggly replied. "I hope to have a very jolly adventure to-day. For one thing I am going to call on Mr. and Mrs. Robin in the old barn. Then I'll go along and see what happens next."

"But what about the maple sugar?" the rabbit gentleman's wife wanted to know. "Why do you want to take some with you?"

"I can't come along to bake pancakes," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the market lady housekeeper, as she took the rag off her tail, where she always tied it to clean the piano. "So why you want maple sugar on an adventure trip, I can't imagine, Mr. Longears."

"I only wish you could come along to bake pancakes for me so I could shave up some maple sugar and sprinkle it on them," said the bumpy uncle. "But I know that can't be done. So I am just going to take some chunks of the brown maple sugar in my pocket and when I get hungry I will nibble on them. Sugar is a food, you know."

"Yes, I know," said Mrs. Longears. "And while you are nibbling the maple sugar, Wiggly, take care that none of the Bad Chaps nibbles you."

"I'll be careful," promised Mr. Longears.

Nurse Jane brought him some chunks of the sugar Uncle Wiggly had made from tree sap, as I have told you. Then he hopped away.

Over the fields and through the woods Uncle Wiggly hopped. Soon he saw the old barn where Mr. and Mrs. Robin had taken shelter until the weather should be warm enough for them to start building their nests and hatching out their baby birds from the eggs colored so prettily blue and with such dainty spots on them.

"Oh, hello, Uncle Wiggly!" sang Mr. Robin, as he saw the rabbit gentleman come hopping along.

"Glad to see you!" and Mr. Robin sang. "Cheer up! Cheer up! Cheer up!"

Mrs. Robin didn't sing. For one thing she couldn't. It is only the gentlemen birds who sing. Mother birds are always so busy. Of course in some lands the mother birds may sing, but around Woodland it is always the daddies who do the chirping.

"Here is a treat for you," said Uncle Wiggly, leaving some crumbs of maple sugar for the birds on an old wheelbarrow in the barn.

"Oh, how kind you are," peeped Mrs. Robin. "First you bring us a loaf of Nurse Jane's raisin bread and now you bring sugar."

"Well, I have plenty of it," spoke the gentleman rabbit. "I thought I might get hungry while adventuring in the woods to-day and there is nothing better for hunger than a piece of maple sugar."

He talked a little longer with the robin birds and then hopped along to see what he could find in the way of adventure. All of a sudden, as Mr. Longears was hopping along, he heard a growling noise come from within a big tree near which he stopped for a rest.

"Halt! This tree must be hollow and there is a growler inside," said the rabbit gentleman to himself. "I hope it isn't one of the growling Bad Chaps."

Then the rabbit gentleman remembered that neither the Fox, the Wolf nor the Bob Cat lived in a hollow tree. Each one had a den in the deep, dark, dismal woods.

"Gurra! Gurra! Gurra!" came the growling voice from within the hollow tree.

"Oh, it must be a Bear!" said Uncle Wiggly aloud.

"Yes, I am a Bear!" was the growling reply. "And I am a cross old Bear with a sore nose. I am just waking up from my long winter sleep and I am hungry. As soon as I get out I am going to nibble you!"

"Oh, my! This might as well be one of the Bad Chaps," thought poor Uncle Wiggly. He started to run away, but before he could take more than two hops, out of the hollow tree came bursting the Bear. He caught the rabbit gentleman by his ears and looked hungrily at him.

"Oh, don't nibble me! Nibble this!" said Uncle Wiggly. He thrust a chunk of maple sugar into the Bear's mouth. And when the hungry Bear had chewed and tasted this delicious sweet he stuck out his tongue and growled:

"More! More! More!" So Uncle Wiggly gave the Bear a lot of maple sugar and then the shaggy creature wasn't hungry any more and he let the rabbit gentleman go.

Uncle Wiggly said it was a good thing he had brought the sugar with him. He had a little left for himself.

To-morrow, if the letter Q will jump out of bed tall first and tickle the as stove under the chin, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggly and the net.
